PROFILE

I am a web developer, accounting administrator, and marine biologist with experience in data analytics, accounting, and customer service roles.

I enjoy applying my skills in order to create responsive and user-friendly apps in React and Javascript.

With my experience in project management and strong presentation skills, I aim to bring our design to life while still maintaining a focus on accessibility.

PROJECTS

Reactive Retail
Git, React, SASS, HTML, CSS, Firebase, Figma

Reactive Retail is a mock retail site built entirely in React using the Fake-Store API. Inthe app, users are able to filter through a variety of products via category, add items to their Firebase cart, and then convert product prices to different currencies.

The Not So Social Planner
Git, React, Firebase, HTML, CSS, Figma

This React group project works as a social planner wherein users are able to submit recurring weekly events into a calendar. Should the user choose to not go through with their social commitments, they are able to check out what shows are streaming at the time. This project simulates an agency-style environment, the project scope being outlined in a client brief.
